PRIME MINISTER'S SON ASSISTING JOE DECHENE CAMPAIGN

Last Saturday in Lac la Biche a public meeting attended by approximately 200 residents of Lac la Biche and district heard Jean Paul St. Laurent, the son of Canada's Prime Minister, speaking in support of J. M. Dechene, the Liberal candidate for the constituency of Athabasca. Mr. J. Harper Prowse, M.L.A., and Mr. Dechene also addressed the meeting.

Mr. St. Laurent reviewed the political situation in Canada as a whole and predicted a smashing victory for his father's Government. He based his prediction on information which he possessed as to the situation in Quebec and in the Maritimes and relied on the Gallup poll results published on July 9th this year.

"The outlook in Alberta is for an increased Liberal representation," said Mr. St. Laurent, "but regardless of what happens in this province the Liberals are practically assured of being returned to power. The only alternative would be a Coalition Government formed by Mr. Drew with such assistance as he might be able to gather from the splinter groups in the House of Commons."

Mr. St. Laurent expressed the opinion that in the interests of stable government and to assure continued prosperity in Canada, the electors should avoid a situation which might cause uneasiness and instability such as exists in France and other European countries. He thought that Alberta constituencies and Athabasca in particular would obtain much better representation and a larger voice in the conduct of the nation if they returned Liberal members.

Mr. Prowse dealt at length with the Government's agricultural policies and explained the effect of the International Wheat Agreement on our sales of wheat "the best evidence that the wheat agreements which we have had in the past were of advantage to Canada is the fact that our largest wheat customer, Great Britain, refused last Spring to renew the agreement on the grounds that it, Great Britain, could do better by direct negotiation than it would under the agreement," said Mr. Prowse.

Mr. Prowse went on to deal with other aspects of the Liberal record and stressed particularly the unity which has existed in Canada under Mr. St. Laurent and the numerous social security measures which the Liberal administration has put into effect since 1935.

Mr. J. M. Dechene, the Liberal candidate, received an ovation when he arose to address the meeting. He reviewed his lengthy public service and reminded his audience that July 18th, the date of this meeting, was the 32nd anniversary of his first election as a provincial member for the constituency of Beaver River which later became the constituency of Lac la Biche. He spoke of his efforts on behalf of the people of his district and mentioned some of the public buildings which he was able to obtain. He announced that the Department of Public Works has recently acquired land on which there will be erected a large building to house the Lac la Biche Post Office and the other federal agencies operating in this district.

Mr. Dechene produced a map prepared by the Hudson's Bay Railway Association with headquarters in Saskatoon which shows the projected east west railway crossing Northern Saskatchewan through Cold Lake and Heinsburg in north-eastern Alberta and connecting up with the Peace River country after going through Lac la Biche and Athabasca. This line will place the bulk of his constituency on a direct transcontinental line and will eventually lead to a western outlet to the Pacific Coast at Prince Rupert.

Mr. Dechene assured his hearers that if he is re-elected he has every hope of seeing this plan materialize and feels that it would be a fitting climax to his career because he has advocated this transportation network for over 30 years.

On Sunday afternoon meetings were held at Plamondon, Atmore, Venice and Hylo.

Lac la Biche Liberal Association Formed

Representatives of 30 Federal Polls met in the Legion Hall at Lac la Biche on the afternoon of Saturday, July 18 to discuss the organization of the present campaign. Mr. Jean Paul St. Laurent, Mr. J. M. Dechene, the Federal Liberal candidate and Mr. J. Harper Prowse, M.L.A. Provincial Liberal Leader and Mr. J. P. Connors were in attendance.

Mr. A. M. Dechene who convened the meeting explained its purpose and called upon Mr. Connors for his recommendations with regard to poll organization. He explained the importance of checking the voters' lists and of making sure that all the favourable voters in each poll cast their ballot on election day. He stressed the value of personal contact in canvassing for support. Following Mr. Connors' talk a discussion took place after which it was decided to form a Liberal Association for the Lac la Biche District and an election of officers took place at which Mr. Willie Hamilton of Lac la Biche was elected President, Mr. W. A. Corse of Grassland was elected Vice-President and Mr. Oscar Tremblay of Lac la Biche became Secretary-Treasurer. All those who attended the meeting immediately paid their membership fee and received membership cards. Poll captains were named for each poll in the district and steps were taken to have each poll thoroughly organized in time for the election on August 10th.

Well-Known Taxidermist Dies

EDMONTON — Canada lost one of its most colorful and interesting citizens on Sunday morning in the passing of Albert Sidney Wolfe. Mr. Wolfe had been in the taxidermy business for over 30 years, having served his apprenticeship with his older brother, William Wolfe, who died some years ago. Many friends, American (especially Texas) and Mexican hunters will mourn his passing as well as hunters from all parts of Canada and even from overseas.

Born in Bath, Somerset, England, Mr. Wolfe came to this country as a young lad, and after farming in Manitoba for a short period, he went north with hunting parties, finally settling in Edmonton in the taxidermy business.

Several photographers have won substantial prize through pictures taken of his mountings. His work, especially on mountain sheep and goat as well as other North American game, was unequalled anywhere in the world, as all hunters who dealt with him would agree.

Mr. Wolfe was for years a member of a religious male quartette over the radio. He was active in choir and welfare work all his life. In latter years he sang with First Baptist Church Choir, Edmonton, until his illness prevented his continuing in that service.

Survivors include his loving wife, three sons, Eric of Rockford, Illinois; Clifford of Seattle; Kenneth of Vancouver, B.C., and two small children, Lois Ann and Sidney at home.

Rev. James R. Cox will officiate at funeral services in Andrews-McLaughlin funeral chapel Thursday at 1:45 p.m. Burial in the Westlawn Memorial Cemetery.

The Reluctant German

Whatever the reason, the people of West Germany, though fearing Soviet Russia, are hesitant about doing anything to assist in the defense of Europe against a possible onslaught of Red forces from behind the Iron Curtain.

Why should there be this change in German attitude? Has there been a real and radical change of heart—does the German now feel that, after all, war is wrong and regardless of possible outcome he'll never go to war anymore? Or is it just that he's had a too-recent belly-full of bloodshed and hasn't had time to digest his gorings and hence hasn't yet developed a taste for more militarism.

One thing is certain. The West will be hard to defend against a Russian invasion without the active support of West Germany. And that will be next to impossible unless the German people plunge into the business of building a defense force, right away, that will help to discourage Russia from contemplating war in Europe.

Alberta's New Decision

The Alberta Government recently turned down an application by the Federation of Agriculture to have marketing boards set up in the province. Their official statement is as follows:

"The legislature majority feels that every farmer should have the right to market his own production in any manner he chooses and that no farmer should be compelled to market his production in a manner that might be agreeable to the majority of his fellow farmers but not acceptable to him.

For legislature arbitrarily to interfere with a farmer's right to market his own production as he sees fit, even if the particular method of marketing adopted is acceptable to a majority seems to us to be incompatible with the established and recognized position that no one has a right to tell a man how and where he can dispose of his own property.

In view of this most important statement by the Alberta Government it now remains to be seen how far the Alberta Government will re-examine their present support of compulsory wheat and coarse grains marketing which most certainly does compel thousands of farmers to market their wheat, oats and barley in a manner that might be agreeable to the majority but which is not acceptable to them.

Hollywood Coming To Alberta

Due largely to the impact of Television the Hollywood Picture business has been in the doldrums during the past year or two. But the increasing interest in 3 Dimension is giving new hope.

Also because of the grandeur of our Canadian mountain scenery, with its vast vistas and of the big industrial developments in Canada, which lends itself so happily to the making of this type of films, as well as the chance of by-passing some of the income tax handicap these big movie producers are turning to Canada for the scenes of their pictures.

All across Canada from Newfoundland to Kilmat, B.C., using the Atomic Power Development, Iron Ore, Uranium, Calgary Stampede, the Mounted Police and their Musical Ride, the Banff and Jasper Park highway, exciting shorts and some full length pictures of adventure struggle and achievement are to be filmed. Big producers and noted actors like James Stewart and Alan Ladd will be working in Alberta in the next few months.

The film industry has been hard-pressed to meet the changing conditions of recent years. With more people finding diversion in Television and motoring the movie magazines have had to struggle to keep out of the red. Maybe more refreshing outdoor Canadian scenes will be good for business.

Side-Shows In Politics

(Calgary Albertan)

During the 1949 federal election campaign Mr. George Drew, the Conservative leader, tried to establish that there was something of a scandal in the government's dealings with an aircraft factory. Because nothing had been heard of it prior to the campaign, the voters assumed that Mr. Drew had manufactured the case for political purposes, and their respect for him was not enhanced.

The other day Mr. Drew alleged there were communists in responsible positions in the employment of the federal government. Apparently he is trying to emulate the successful tactics of Senator McCarthy of the United States, and more will be heard along this line.

Prime Minister St. Laurent has denied any knowledge of such a situation and challenges Mr. Drew to bring out his proof.

The Conservative leader should appreciate that most Canadians have a somewhat different political sense than what Senator McCarthy appeals to.

The attitude of most Canadians, we are very sure, is that if Mr. Drew has evidence of any such employment of communists, it was his duty to disclose it to Parliament, which was in session not many weeks ago. That's what Parliament is for. Mr. Drew is leader of the Opposition, and he's paid by the Canadian taxpayers to oppose the government on the floor of Parliament, to make his accusations there and produce his evidence there. If he possesses information important enough to be made an election issue, he was negligent in his official duty in hiding it from Parliament.

Whether there are any communists in the government service we don't know. Mr. Drew could be right. But we do know that his timing and his method of raising the issue almost force the average voter to conclude that this, too is nothing but a political stunt and that its author cannot be taken seriously.

Can Canada afford a prime minister who is not to be taken seriously?

No Fighting Issue

The current Federal election campaign is one wherein the opposition forces have no real plan or platform to offer as a substitute for the Liberal administration of the past 18 years. Political observers in Canada and in foreign countries agree that there is no better-governed land than Canada.

Mr. Drew is like the proverbial drowning man clutching at straws. Four years ago he carried on a lusty campaign against the type of engine being used in TCA planes. This time he has a grandiose scheme to increase government expenditures by one billion or more a year and still reduce taxes by half a billion.

Clearly, such ridiculous propositions show that there is no real issue being fought in this campaign.

Crop Scares

We are now in the period of crop scares. We are hearing the following predictions: We've had too much rain, so much land is flooded. Farmers, therefore, have abandoned a lot of acreage. Grasshoppers will take a lot of the crop. Wireworms and cutworms are damaging the crop. Hail will be worse than usual. The crop is late, so the frost will surely get it. The 15-D rust will damage what is left. Even if we harvest a good crop we shall never be able to sell it. And so it goes, with these direful predictions during the course of almost every crop in the making. Some years, of course, the crop is actually poor, and in other years in spite of all these hazards a good crop is produced. Somehow or another, however, in spite of it all a fair crop usually comes through, indicating the remarkable power of our grain varieties to survive in spite of all the hazards of weather, insects and plant disease. Had it not been for these remarkable powers of survival our domesticated plants, so agriculture, would long ago have disappeared from the earth.

One good forecast can usually safely be made: the crop will never be quite as good as some people think, and will never be as bad as some predict.

Voice of the People

HORSE POWER AND OLD HARNESS

Here's a problem I have not seen mentioned in your paper to date.

In rummaging around the old barn I find that harness and parts from the days of horse power farming still remain. This is a thing common all over the Prairies where mechanization has taken place. Tons and tons of harness, parts and collars are going to waste, while in places where horses are still used high prices are being paid for such articles. I just wonder if it is not possible to bridge this gap and connect the ones whose old harness is going to waste with those who may need collars, traces, harness and straps to repair and replace their stocks. If this could be done I am sure substantial savings could be effected and a lot of waste stopped. Would this be worth while? Seemingly Endless Prosperity may not last forever you know. What do you think?

WONDERING.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT

Many farmers are greatly confused about the future price of wheat under the International Wheat Agreement. What's this talk about lower future prices to farmers? they say "when there is a definite price of $2.05 set under the International Wheat Agreement."

The truth is that it is not at all certain that farmers will receive the $2.05, for in spite of the present belief of many the $2.05 is not a definite price, but is only the maximum above which price cannot go. The only price assured under the agreement to our farmers (and even this is not a positive assurance) is the minimum of $1.55. Between the maximum of $2.05 and the minimum of $1.55 the price farmers will receive (basis I Nor. Fort. William) may fluctuate, and will be in accordance with the open market price of wheat, which open market price is usually represented by the Class II price set daily by the Canadian Wheat Board.

What the actual price to farmers will be after August 1st next is quite beyond the ability of anyone to forecast or to guarantee. Winnipeg.

1 tsp. baking powder
2 1/2 cups flour

Cream butter and add sugar. Add well-beaten eggs and vanilla. Combine sifted flour, salt and baking powder and sift gradually into the first ingredient mixture. Work well and cut with cookie cutter. Bake in moderate oven for about 15 minutes. These are really good.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Should A Hard Working, Ambitious Girl Marry A Jealous, Lazy Man?

Dear Louisa:

I am a 27-year-old farm girl. A few months ago I became engaged to a boy a few years older than me, whom I thought I loved. Now, as the time draws nearer to the date we had set for marriage, I become less certain whether I made a right choice or not.

I am ambitious type. I have been doing housework and outside chores such as driving tractor, etc. I have earned some money, which will come very handy in helping to make a home some day. My only mistake is that I have never worked anywhere but home, since having nearly completed my high school education.

My fiancé is also a farm boy, but he isn't ambitious. Just lately, I've found out that he isn't a good worker and always has to be told what to do and when to do things. If I ever look at another boy, he is very jealous of me. I am fairly quiet myself, but I don't need anyone to order me around.

Now everything is so complicated I just don't know what to do. Louisa, please give me some advice. I realize I am not so young. Should I marry this boy or shall I still look around?

WORRIED.

Dear Worried:

Not all successful marriages are made by people who are identical in their ambitions and personality make-up. Many are complementary to each other. That is, the ambitious man or woman, used to going ahead and doing things on his or her own, will get along quite well with a docile mate who has to be prodded into doing everything.

At your age, you should consider if you have any real prospect of meeting up with someone about your own age who more nearly fits your ideal of a good husband. Then you should take a pencil and a piece of paper and write down on one side your fiancé's good qualities and on another his poor qualities. If he is a good living man, sober, preferably your own religion, and if his parents have a respectable home, I'd say you aren't making any mistake in marrying him. The fact that he is not as ambitious as your self and has to be told what to do is more likely a good quality for him as it balances off nicely or "complements" your own qualities of ambition and strong will.

If you feel you are no longer in love with him, that's another story. In that case you'd best ask him to postpone the wedding and meanwhile try and get away on a trip to some other part of the country. Visit friends or relatives where you can meet new friends. And if you still love the boy when you get back home set a new date and get married quick!

LOUISA.

Canadian Highway Finished By 1960

Deputy minister of resources and development, Maj-Gen. Hugh A. Young, who visited Calgary this week, said it is expected that the coast-to-coast Trans-Canada highway will be completed by 1960.

The highway through the prairie provinces, he said, should be ready for through traffic by 1956. The federal government will be building part of the road through the Banff National Park and it is planned to build the road from the park gates to Lake Louise in such a way that it can later be widened into a four-lane highway.

Maj-Gen. Young, who is also commissioner for the Northwest Territories and who was former general staff officer, grade two, at MD 13 in Calgary at the beginning of the last year, said that the greatest difficulties in construction were occurring in the mountainous terrain of British Columbia, in Ontario, and also in the Maritimes.

Mine Plans To Sue Union

TIMMINS, Ont. (BUP)—Broulan Reef Gold Mines has told the powerful United Steelworkers of America it would sue it for damages, including loss of profits, for shutting down its rich Porcupine goldfields with a wildcat strike.

Walter F. Brown, mine manager, said in a letter he would file the civil suit against the union, its officers and any members taking a direct part in the "illegal stoppage" and would ask to be reimbursed for damages including maintenance and lost profit.

Union officials said there was no precedent in the courts for a civil damage award against a union. However, an arbitration board last year ordered the United Electrical Workers to pay $9,208 damages to Canadian General Electrical for an illegal strike. When the union refused to pay, the company collected it by withholding checkoff dues paid by union members.

More than 350 gold miners struck over a wage dispute at Preston East Dome mines Monday, bringing to eight the number of mine properties shut.

The walkout swelled the number of striking miners in the Porcupine mining area here to about 725 workers at Broulan Reef and Hallnor Gold Mines quit Saturday. Five properties operated by Broulan were closed and picketed.

Police Bullets Halt Suspects

EDMONTON (BUP) — Two men arrested shortly after a break-in early Wednesday were remanded until July 23 when they appeared in police court on charges of breaking and entering.

The pair, Joseph Dencer and Nick Gordichuk, were arrested by two prowler car constables after a warning shot had been fired at them.

Police said the pair had broken into the Midwest Paper Company. Gordichuk was captured by constable Robert Robertson and Dencer was found in his parked car by Constable John Tilson.

The office, police said, had been damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars. J. H. Mills, manager, said although the amount of stolen cash is not definitely known, two cheques, totalling about $275, are missing.

Huge Plant Ready To Start

EDMONTON, Alta. (BUP)—Edmonton's "industry row" hummed with new activity last week when the Canadian Chemical Company's $55,000,000 plant went on production, manager Vincent Anwyll said.

First unit of the plant to go into operation was the yarn building, which is ready for initial operations.

The huge plant, which took two years to build, is the most ambitious of a series of multi-million dollar projects between East Edmonton and Clover Bar.

Other large-scale developments in the area include the $13,000,000 plant, where construction is to be Canadian Industries Ltd. polythene completed by October; oil refineries of Imperial Oil, McColl Frontenac and British-American companies, each costing about $10,000,000; the pumping station of the Inter-Provincial Pipeline company, and several other industrial plants.

About 2,500 construction workers were employed at the Canadian Chemical Company plant at the peak of construction.

Company officials said raw materials for yarns, are being imported from the United States until they can be produced locally.

Farm Policy Called Vague

WINGHAM, Ont.—Prime Minister St. Laurent attacked the Progressive Conservative farm policy as vague.

Campaigning in rural western Ontario, he hit at the agriculture "fair price" plank in the Opposition's manifesto given out last Friday.

Mr. St. Laurent said he doubts that "many hard-headed farmers are going to prefer vague promises of national agricultural boards" to the present government.

Also, he doubted if they would show preference for the Progressive Conservatives' "undisclosed plans" for breaking dollar-sterling barriers to stimulate trade.

LIBERALS GAINS FOR ALBERTA FORECAST BY P.M.'s SON

EDMONTON—In a prediction made in Edmonton recently, Jean Paul St. Laurent, son of the Prime Minister, forecast that the Liberal party would be returned with increased strength shown in Alberta, Newfoundland and Quebec. He said some might occur in the Maritimes and Ontario.

Mr. St. Laurent was in Edmonton to work in the Liberal campaign in this province and expects to spend several weeks in Alberta.

Considering the national vote province-by-province, with the results he expects from the Aug. 10 federal election, Mr. St. Laurent said he thinks his party will double their five seats in Alberta which they won in the election of 1949.

He indicated that one of the five new seats might be Peace River where the Social Credit national leader, Solon Low is running for re-election. Mr. St. Laurent said Peace River should have gone Liberal in the last election, but at that time there were certain weaknesses that have since been corrected. He stated he would like to see the Liberal representation spread over a wider area.

His opinions on the election, Mr. St. Laurent said, were based on reports received in the east before he started his trip west. This is what he predicted for other provinces.

Newfoundland—An increase of seats from five to six and possibly seven.

Quebec—Slight gains resulting from winning three or four seats from the PCs but losing two from too much Liberal strength. In some Quebec constituencies, Liberal candidates are running against fellow Liberals thus splitting the vote.

Ontario—Some losses were anticipated for Ontario, but the Liberals are expected to obtain the majority.

Maritimes—Expect a drop of two or three seats.

Mr. St. Laurent did not detail the other provinces, but he said that in Manitoba the Liberals are very happy, and though B.C. is Social Credit "provincially" it will go to the Liberals in the federal house. In Saskatchewan the CCF were losing ground federally.

He gave Social Credit little chance, stating that voters in Canada "will not go for a party that is basically a one-province group."

Mr. St. Laurent said he had no desire to follow his father into politics. He said he is working for the defeat of the Duplessis government in Quebec, which, he declared poses a threat to Canada's democratic system of government.

It is nice for other people to go to church and that includes you.

Compulsory Retirement Age Abolished

A Canadian Press despatch from Ottawa, says the Federal Government recently washed out the arbitrary retirement age of 65 years for civil servants; raised the age limit for hiring older personnel and lowered the age at which younger persons may be employed.

Under the order-in-council, previously prescribed age limits may be waived when qualified candidates within the limits are not available. This means that the previous age restrictions of 18 to 35 years for hiring has changed and now is 17 to approximately 40 years. The Civil Service Commission said "physical and mental fitness" will be the deciding factor henceforth. Previously, a senior civil servant wishing to work beyond the compulsory retirement age had to obtain special authorization. Now the department involved has only to agree to continuation of the employee and he may stay on the job.

YES, THERE IS A CATHOLIC ATTITUDE

...on Big Business...on the Worker...on Fascism...on Race and Color.

"But," you may ask, "what do you mean by a Catholic Attitude?" After all, what has religion got to do with Industry and Labor, Wages and Profits?"

Just this much, friend. Religion is more than a Sunday morning affair — it affects every moment of your daily life. Life is made up of actions, one right after the other — and these actions are either good or bad. Religion gives us the moral standards to judge whether these actions are right or wrong!

It is a question of right or wrong — it concerns religion — if an employer deprives his laborers of their just wages... if a selfish group "corners" the market and works hardships on others... if a union calls a strike that will cripple the whole country's economy.

This is where the Catholic Attitude comes in. The Catholic Church would be failing its duty if it did not apply the law of God to the many problems that beset today's world.

When Christ lived among men, they learned from Him the Christian attitude toward the social questions with which they were faced. He refused to meddle in mere politics, but He was careful to tell rulers not to exceed their authority. He warned Pilate that he had no right to commit injustice for the sake of expediency. He rebuked hypocrites who took advantage of widows and orphans. He pointed out the right use of money and the moral obligations of the wealthy.

Of course, Christ said nothing about Communism, Trade Unions, or Capitalism. These questions did not then exist. But certainly to us they are every bit as important as those on which He spoke to the men of His day. And His voice is needed now to speak with the same authority for the solution of our difficulties.

Christ established His Church to teach all men to observe all that He had commanded — to direct them in the religion of every-day life.

It is for this reason we find the Apostles criticizing the intolerance of their fellow-countrymen and proclaiming the equality of the Gentile converts. We see St. Paul writing in great detail of the obligations of masters and servants, of husbands and wives. From St. Peter we learn about taxpaying and the obedience we owe to civil authorities. The Catholic Church continues this tradition today by expressing its attitude on the basically moral problems of modern society.

FREE—You will find it well worth your while to investigate the Catholic Attitude on matters that vitally concern us all: on Industry and Labor... Race and Color... Liberalism, Democracy and Communism.

Write today for a free pamphlet explaining the Catholic Attitude on these and similar questions. Ask for Pamphlet No. 10—KC.

One day my brother was sick, so he went outside for fresh air because he said he might feel better. I was in the house busy with my home work. Finally the door opened, I yelled "Well, Mike, are you feeling better?" Was I ever embarrassed when a strange man replied, "I wasn't sick in the first place."

A Sophomore: "Oh, that's the greenhouse."
Visitor: "I didn't know that the freshmen had a dormitory all to themselves."

A Mistake

"So Miss Golrock broke off her engagement with that magazine editor, did she?"
"Yes, she wrote him some love letters and he returned them with a rejection slip stating that while he was always pleased to see such things and they undoubtedly possessed merit, he was greatly overstocked with other contributions of a similar nature."

A Happy Day

Returning home at night from the office, the father asked his children about their behavior that day.

"Oh, we've been good," said little Nancy. "I washed the dishes."

"And I wiped them," added Peter.

"And what about you, Dicky?" the father asked, turning to the smallest member of the family.

"I picked up the pieces," he replied cheerfully.

She: "What's harder than a diamond?"

A Resemblance

A company of cadets was lined up on the field of inspection, and as the officer strode down the line, he stopped before a young man and said:

"You remind me of General Grant."

"Really, sir," said the cadet, eagerly.

"Yes," said the officer, "he didn't shave, either."

Knew Her English

During the last war an American doughboy on leave picked up a cute little mademoiselle and took her to a Parisian cafe for dinner.

During the first course he consulted his French dictionary, and with a fine Brooklyn accent breathed, "Je t'adore."

The little lady fired back, "Shut the door yourself—you lazees Yankee."

Terrible!

When the flood was over and Noah had freed all the animals, he returned to the ark to make sure all had left. He found two snakes in the corner, weeping.

"What's the matter?" Noah asked.

"You told us to go forth and multiply upon the earth, and we are both adders."

Quickly Jailed After Robbery

EDMONTON (BUP) — City police arrested Roger Gauthier, no fixed abode, for the theft of more than $2,150 from a recently-arrived immigrant.

Gauthier was living in the same rooming house as the immigrant, Adolph Linge. Tuesday Gauthier came to the house in a taxi and asked to go into Linge's room to pick up some belongings. When Linge came home he discovered that a metal box containing $150 cash and over $2,000 worth of antiques, was missing.

Detectives, acting on information from the taxi driver, found Gauthier and another man in a downtown hotel room, as well as the metal box and some of its contents.

Gauthier pleaded guilty to the theft charge in police court, and was remanded eight days for sentence.
